SATV Summer Camp

➤ Introduction to Television Production

Students will get hands on experience and learn how to write a script, operate a camera and capture audio to record their own videos. Students will also learn basic editing skills using Adobe Premiere. At the end of the week, students will learn the positions within the control room and use their videos to produce a 15 minute show that will require all of their new technical skills and teamwork. Parents are invited to attend the show recording on Friday.* This camp is open to students entering grades 5-9.

➤ Advanced Television Production

This is recommended for students entering grades 8-12 and who are familiar with basic editing using Adobe Premiere or a similar editing software. Students who attended an SATV camp, have experience working on a school television show, or are entering grades 10-12 with limited experience are welcomed to attend. Students will learn more advanced editing techniques, video composition and audio editing to create their own videos. Students will use their videos to produce a 15 minute show at the end of the week. Parents are invited to attend the show recording on Friday.*

*All works created by SATV Summer Camp students in conjunction with an SATV Summer Camp course are the property of the student. However, SATV reserves the right to use the work for marketing and promotional purposes.
